What you heard at the Open House

Legitimate vs. irrelevant

Review on-line survey results and paper survey results (not yet fully compiled)

What are the top 10 "takeaways" – What is the public "really" telling us?

What are the priorities? Where start? Where is the "biggest bang for the buck"? Why?

Well done- but there is still plenty to do!

3. Next Steps

Small group meetings with key community leaders to gain support

Consultants to provide an outline of a summary document by Friday

Final document may look like this:

-clear statement of problems and why "doing what we've always done" is not acceptable

-a statement of the 'target market', why, and what they want/need

-some initial projects (as presented at the open house) that show how to adapt projects to the target market

-a decision-tree tool that sets up a process and filters for making decisions about things we don't know about today

City staff working on cost analysis of projects
